ILLINOIS LUMBER KING TELLS SENATE COMMITTEE OF HIS CONNECTION WITH LORIMER'S ELECTION.

NAMES A SENATOR

Aldrich and Sen. Penrose Said To Have Told Hines Lorimer Was Choice of Administration As Senator From Illinois.

Washington, June 29.—Edward Hines, on the stand today, told the Lorimer investigators about discussing the Illinois senatorial situation with Senators Penrose and Aldrich in May, 1909, that Sen. Aldrich sent for him, and told him the administration was anxious that a republican be elected from Illinois, and that he had heard Lorimer could be elected.

WANTS MORE FUNDS TO COMPLETE WORK ON FOREST RESERVE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., June 29.—Despite the showing of Chief Forester J. M. Griffith, that the department needs all of the $200,000 a year for ten years asked for, the purpose of completing the forest reserve and making it a compact tract, the assembly has passed the bill appropriating money for this purpose, after cutting down the annual amount to $50,000. Shortly before the vote was taken Mr. Griffith, in response to an assembly resolution, laid before the members a complete record of all lands purchased by the department since Sept. 4, 1907, showing the following totals:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Rows include Total acreage purchased, Average cost per acre, Total cost, and various grants.

The senate's doubtless will noncommittal in the amendment cutting down the appropriation to $50,000 a year, but it is not likely that the bill when finally passed, will allow more than $100,000.

The governor also reappointed Otto Gaffron of Plymouth, a member of the state civil service commission and John A. Shultz of Sparta, state fish and game warden.

Dr. A. H. Hartwig of Watertown, who was appointed state veterinarian, to succeed Dr. D. B. Clark, whose term expired on June 1. Shortly before this date, Dr. Hartwig was summoned before the state livestock sanitary board, of which the state veterinarian is a member, to answer to charges that he had certified to a record of a test of cattle on a Waukesha farm when he had not been present when the test was conducted.

RE-APPORTIONMENT BILL TAKEN UP BY THE LEGISLATURE

Madison, June 29.—The reapportionment bill was up today. The proposed division of the state into one hundred assembly districts and eleven congressional districts, was first taken up. The proposed division of the state into 33 senatorial districts was considered.

Senate Concurred. The state senate concurred in all the amendments to the state constitution and the state Nor amendment appropriation bills, with the exception of the one raising the tuition of students living in other states. The assembly recorded in its position on this amendment and the bill now goes to the governor for action.

Efforts of the opponents of the Wisconsin income tax bill to secure a reconsideration of the bill by the state senate failed this afternoon, the motion to reconsider, being lost by a vote of 11 for, to 14 against.

MURDERER PLACED ON TRIAL TODAY

Trial of Louis Vondermill for Killing Brother-in-Law With Shotgun Commenced in Alexandria.

Alexandria, Va., June 29.—The case of Louis Vondermill, indicted for the murder of his brother-in-law, John Reeves, was called for trial in the Alexandria county court today. The killing of Reeves occurred on the morning of June 5 and is alleged to have resulted from a quarrel between the two men the preceding day. On the morning of the tragedy Vondermill, having obtained possession of a shotgun to take the place of a pistol, which had hung fire, went down to the railroad station at Syphax, emptied a load of buckshot, with fatal effect, into Reeves' head.

ANNUAL REGATTA OF YALE AND HARVARD

Crews of Eastern Universities Meet Tomorrow On Thames.—Odds On Harvard Are About Even.

New London, Conn., June 29.—With weeks of grueling practice at an end, the Yale and Harvard crews which will meet on the Thames course tomorrow in the annual regatta are awaiting the event in confidence. The big race will be preceded as usual by a contest between the freshman crews of the two universities.

Every train is bringing its quota of enthusiasts and many others are arriving by automobile and by boat. The influx tomorrow promises to be in excess of anything ever known at a New London regatta, and it is predicted that the largest crowd that ever witnessed a rowing event in America will see the Crimson and Blue struggle for honors. The old town wears a holiday appearance, the colors of the two universities being displayed conspicuously in the principal streets.

The odds in favor of Harvard have shrunk and it would be no surprise if every money was offered tomorrow. Harvard's eight admittedly has two great factors in its favor; the men are all in the best possible condition, and they are all veteran rowers, who have never known defeat by Yale. On the other hand the Cornell victory of last month indicated that the Harvard crew is hardly up to the standard of some previous years.

The Yale crew started practice with anything but a promising outlook for success. But weeks of steady practice brought about marvelous improvement and within the past two weeks the crew has come on remarkably fast. Nearly all of the critics agree that there will be a real race on the Thames tomorrow in spite of Yale's backward season, and that it may prove that the big, powerful and veteran Harvard eight has been somewhat overrated.

TRADE PARALYZED IN ENGLAND BY STRIKE

Great Britain Faces Crisis As Result of Tie Up Caused By Strike of Seamen in All Ports.

London, June 29.—With the prices of the necessities of life already advanced twenty-five per cent as a result of the strike of the seamen and associated trades at nearly every port in Great Britain, clothing reported at a dozen different ports and trade almost entirely paralyzed, England today faces the most serious crisis in recent years. Boards of trade are making determined efforts to settle the strike.

PAINFULLY INJURED BY A BAD FALL YESTERDAY

Mrs. Chauncey K. Millmore Sprained Ankle and Suffered Other Injuries To Limb in Going Down Incline.

Mrs. Chauncey K. Millmore, Center avenue, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon, while out walking. In walking down a side hill she slipped and fell, spraining her right ankle and rupturing the ligaments about the joints. She also suffered other injuries to the limb and will be confined to the house for several weeks. She is resting today as comfortably as possible.

TO AID CHINA TO PREVENT FLOODS

Red Cross Has Offered Chinese Government Services of Engineer to Draw Plans for Canals and Dikes.

Washington, June 29.—Through the American Red Cross, the United States is preparing to enable China to prevent a recurrence of floods in the Hwai river valley, which were responsible for the terrible famine of last winter, in which hundreds of thousands of people died of starvation and disease.

For this purpose, the Red Cross has offered to the Chinese government the services of an engineer, who will draw up plans for building canals and dikes which shall prevent further inundations. This offer has been accepted with thanks by China.

The man engaged by the Red Cross is Charles D. Jameson, who has had sixteen years of experience in engineering in China, having been engaged on work for the American legation, the Chinese foreign office and a British syndicate. He is a graduate of Harvard, has been a professor in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the head of the engineering department of Iowa University. He is particularly familiar with the country in the region of the Hwai.

During the famine, the United States, through the Red Cross, and the Christian Herald, has sent more than $250,000 to relieve the suffering of the famine victims.

CIVILIAN OFFICERS WILL BE SELECTED

Government Will Hold Competitive Examinations in September to Select One Hundred Second Lieutenants.

Washington, June 29.—Competitive examinations for the selection of about 100 civilians to be second lieutenants in the United States army will be conducted in September at various military posts about the country.

Candidates must be citizens of the United States, unmarried, and of good moral character. They must be not less than 21 years of age, and in all other respects eligible for appointment at the date set for the examination. None can be appointed to the army from civil life after his twenty-seventh birthday.

The mental examinations are divided into two parts, the preliminary and the competitive. The preliminary examination will cover English grammar, and orthography, mathematics, including algebra, geometry, and trigonometry, and geography and history. Graduates of recognized colleges and universities and other institutions of learning classified as Class A, and Class B, at which army officers are detailed as instructors of military science and tactics will be exempt from this preliminary.

The competitive mental examination will include questions in general history, elementary French, German, Spanish, as the candidate may elect; the constitution of the United States and elementary international law; and one advanced optional subject—either any modern language; English language and English literature, or higher mathematics to include differential calculus, integral calculus, and analytical geometry.

The physical examination will be for conformity to the standard required of recruits for the army, except that any applicant whose degree of vision is less than 20-40 in either eye, or is color blind for red, green, or violet will be rejected.

ATTEMPT TO STAY DEATH SENTENCE

Preparations Being Made To Try To Secure Reversal of Death Sentence of Indian Princess Through Recourse To Upper Court.

Calcutta, June 29.—Preparations are being made for a herculean effort in the Punjab Chief Court to secure a reversal of the death sentence recently passed by the lower tribunal at Amritsar upon the Suddran, Bhagwan Kaur, better known as the Ranee Sahiba, or Princess, for the murder of a Brahmin named Kalan Chand by poisoning.

The Ranee is the widow of Sirdar Dyal Singh, one of the most prominent men in the Punjab. Her rank is such that, to the Hindoos, her conviction on a capital charge created much the same sensation as would be created in England by a similar conviction of a Duke or in the United States of that of a Senator.

Kalan Chand was the Ranee's woman and seems to have been favored by her for a time. Later she tired of him, but the Brahmin refused to accept his dismissal and continued to poster her with his attentions. Accordingly, as the evidence showed, she admitted him to her private apartments on the night of Feb. 20, and gave him a glass of milk containing arsenic.

THE BIGGER NAVY HAS BECOME ASSURED FACT

BRIEF RESUME OF THE SITUATION THAT EXERTS IN SHIP-PIPING CIRCLES.

MUCH PRIDE SHOWN

Larger and Better Vessels Have Replaced the Older Boats in Service During Spanish War.

New York, June 29.—From that day at Santiago when the American fleet destroyed the battleships of Spain, the nation has taken growing interest and pride in its new navy. "At the close of the Spanish War," writes Lieutenant Commander Walter B. Tardy, U. S. N., in the current issue of the Engineering magazine, "the press and the people were satisfied with their Navy. It had been successful, and thus efficiency was taken for granted. But when stock was eventually taken, the small percentage of hits made became known, and naval officers realized that something must be done to justify the public confidence."

The result of that realization is what Lieutenant Commander Tardy embodies in his paper on scientific management and efficiency in the United States Navy. "It is not uncommon to human experience," he observes, "for different experimenters working at similar problems independently and without any knowledge of one another's efforts, to arrive independently an simultaneously at the same discoveries. Something like this has happened in the case of the navy and civil establishments; for only since the technical and popular press took up the general discussion of scientific management, have naval officers begun to realize that their management was of the kind now so strenuously advocated for industrial pursuits of all sorts."

This efficiency may be divided into three parts—efficiency of the gun crew, efficiency of the fighting unit, or the ship; and efficiency of the fighting division or fleet. For it is with fighting efficiency that a fighting machine such as a navy is intended to be, is first concerned. But the effort for efficiency has not been bounded by fighting drill. Important economies have been won in engine practice; the aim has been to make engineering count equally with gunnery in determining the final ship efficiency. Coefficiency in coaling, and economy in the stoke hold and engine room; when translated into action mean that a given ship, run to the full of her capacity, is able to steam just so much farther, to attain just so much wider a cruising radius, to clear from port in a hurry just so much quicker, to show just so much more speed in a desperate pinch, than the same ship or her sister when slackly officered.

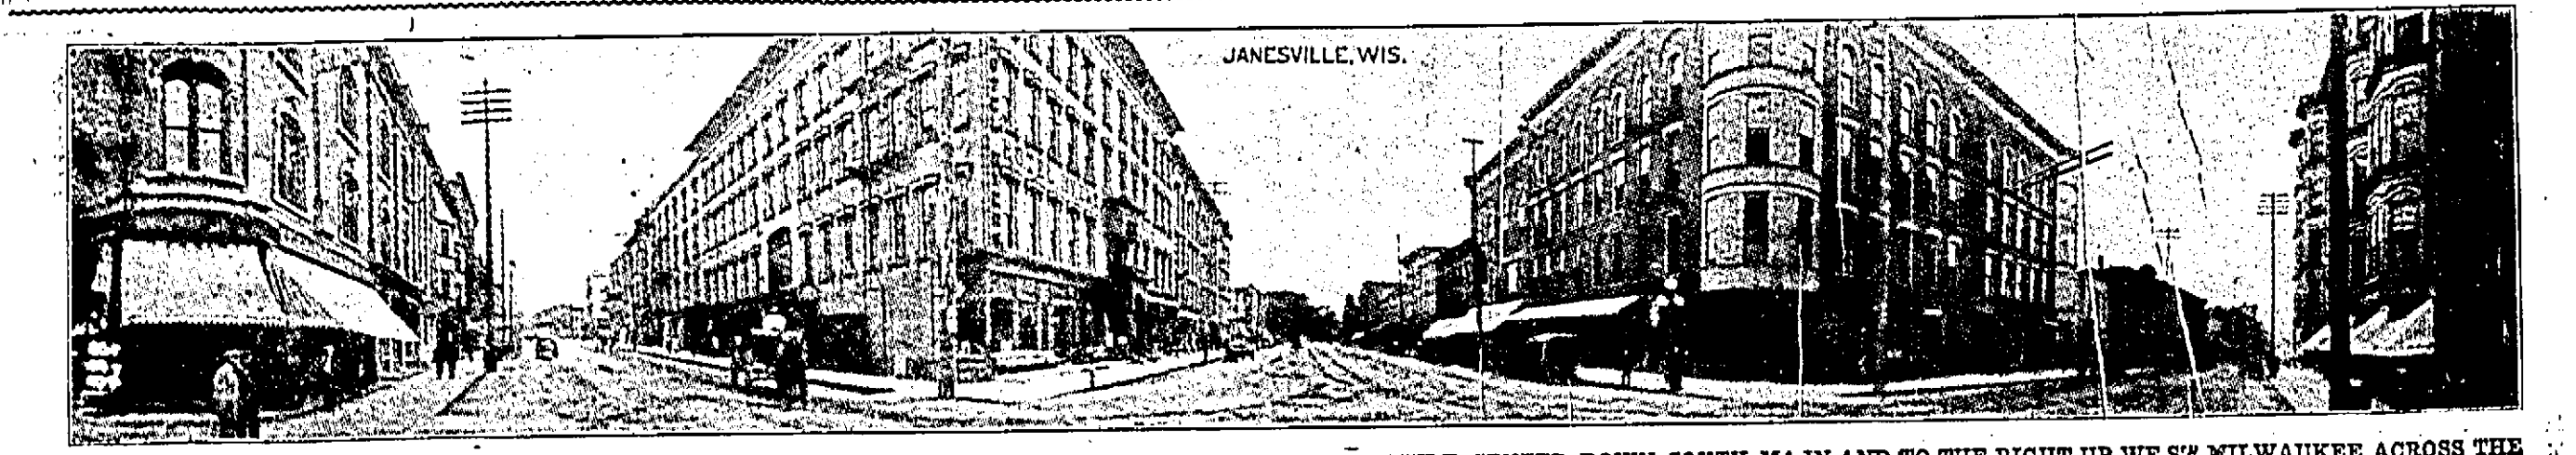

Counting engineering—equally with gunnery in determining the final performance of any ship—since to work her guns on the enemy her engines must first carry her into and keep her in range—the Navy set itself this standard, as embodied in the Rules for Battle Practice, 1911, and quoted by Lieutenant Tardy. "The measure of the battle efficiency of any vessel is her ability to deliver the greatest number of hits in the shortest possible time after the enemy is sighted and with the least expenditure of coal."

In this direction we see what has been done. "The Texas," writes Commander Tardy, "was one of the American ships in the battle of Santiago. Less than three per cent. of all the shells fired in this battle by the American fleet hit the enemy. There is no record that a single twelve inch or thirteen inch shell took effect. The ranges were less than 3,000 yards. Recently the New Hampshire used the old Texas as a target. She fired at ranges of from 10,000 to 11,500 yards and landed whole salvos on the Texas whenever she wished.

"Recently the Michigan, an all big gun ship made 22 twelve inch hits at ranges of 10,000 yards while steaming at fifteen knots, the target being only 60 feet long by 30 feet high. She fired 48 twelve-inch shells. Her percentage of hits therefore was about 45. The rate of firing was about two shots per minute per gun. This in a moderately rough sea, while the sea was smooth at the battle of Santiago."

These and other similar results recently induced the Secretary of the Navy to say in an address delivered before the New York Economic Club, "Scientific management experts who saw the recent battle practice told me that the battleship is the finest exhibition of scientific management they have ever seen."

Lieutenant Tardy tells how this efficiency was developed. "Every officer in charge of any part of a ship's battery," he writes, "was required to improve the equipment and develop the best method of training within his capacity. . . . After each had formulated and tried out tentatively a drill they came together, each accepting whatever was best in

HOW CELEBRATION IS MADE A POSSIBILITY

HAD ITS INCEPTION WITH UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

MANY DIFFICULTIES

Joint Committee Has Worked as One Man to Make Affairs Successful—The Biggest Affair Ever Undertaken.

In former years when Janesville has celebrated the Fourth of July with a civic parade and the famous Nona Bush Brown, circus, thousands of people have come from all parts of the country to witness the affair and by the Industrial and Commercial Club, whose aid had been solicited. The camp named Carl Buchholz, David Atwood, Edward Falter, Albert Nott and John Kalbroner. The Industrial and Commercial Club, John Gollner and its secretary, Dr. Armand. This joint committee never had a meeting formally or was organized. First Kalbroner resigned, owing to his leaving the city, Dr. Armand resigned his secretaryship and left the city and last but not least, the plan of holding this convention of the Spanish War Veterans on July 3rd, 4th and 5th was practically killed by a general order from the national headquarters of the order that all state encampments must be held previous to July 1.

Disheartened by this last announcement, the committee practically settled down to merely seeking to entertain the visiting veterans at their convention by boat rides and some mild amusements. Urged by members of the committee, however, Dr.

have gone away wondering how a city the size of Janesville could manage such extensive amusements. The men who have been in the forefront of the committee could have told of the difficulties encountered but the general spirit of good will that they found everywhere which always brought success out of seeming disaster at the last moment.

A year ago this month the last state encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans was held at Sheboygan. It was a success and partament Commander Hanger and Adjutant Buchholz began a long series of correspondence with the national officers and finally secured the desired permission to hold the convention.

Mr. De Armand's vacant place on the committee was filled by the Industrial and Commercial Club's appointment of Geo. M. McKey, and later, at the request of the joint committee, adding the name of its present secretary, F. E. Lane. Mr. Kalbroner's place was filled by the camp by and the committee hired Bart J. Ruddle of Milwaukee, a friend of the industrial and commercial club who is thoroughly conversant with the business in hand, to arrange all details and to handle the matter exclusively. Advertising was left to David Atwood.

To aid in handling the big proposition the committee, by joint vote, added other committee chairman to the original executive committee.

Bands and band-stands, and the two dances were left to the management of John L. Fletcher. John C. Nichols was named as chairman of the reception committee. Dr. W. Watt was employed to take charge of the Bureau of Information and to arrange for the selling and taking of tickets at the sham battle. E. T. Fish accepted the chairmanship of the industrial or civic parade to be held the morning of July 4th. Arthur Jones was appointed to a similar chairmanship of the automobile parade to be held the evening of July 4th and Captain Chas. F. Hanson, of the arrangements for the reception of the artillery and sham battle the morning of July 5th.

The real work of the committee then began. Acceptances from four of A. P. D. E., and from battery A was followed by a conference with the officers of these organizations in Milwaukee with Chairman Buchholz and E. E. Lane acting for the committee. Two special trains, one for the battery and one for the infantry, were chartered from the Northwestern railroad officials and the question of feeding the left soldiers was taken in the city was left to the commanding company officers, each company receiving a fixed sum per man present.

FORT ATKINSON MAN ISSUED BAD CHECKS

Barney F. Rutzen Taken Into Custody Here Last Night For Passing Worthless Bank Paper.—Was Released Today.

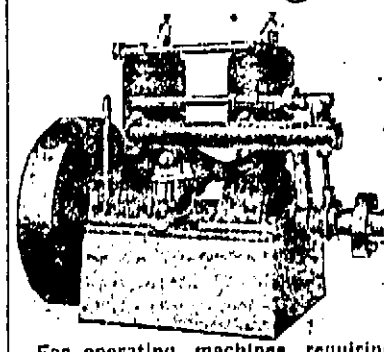

Barney F. Rutzen of Fort Atkinson, who is said to be mentally unbalanced, was taken into custody last night and lodged in the city lockup for passing a worthless check for a dollar on Wendell Schneider, proprietor of the St. Charles hotel. The man was, however, released at noon today on the arrest of his brother from Fort Atkinson, who settled Rutzen's account at the hotel and took the man home. Rutzen will be examined at Ft. Atkinson to determine as to his sanity.

On a trip to Janesville Rutzen gave the check to the hotel-keeper and it was paid by a local bank, but when it was presented to the First National Bank at Fort Atkinson, on which the order was drawn, they refused to pay, stating that Rutzen had no funds there. When arrested last evening Rutzen also had in his possession a check for forty dollars made out to a local clothing firm, a ticket on the Northwestern railroad from Fort Atkinson to Chicago. Purchased this morning, another from Fort Atkinson to Milwaukee and one from Fort Atkinson to Racine, also a communication ticket of the Milwaukee Electric railway.

Chief of Police Appleby telephoned to the city marshal at Fort Atkinson this morning, who informed the local chief that Rutzen was not considered bright, mentally, and arrangements were made for the release of Rutzen. The man will be given a mental examination by physicians and may be sent to Mendota.

BASEBALL SCHEDULE FOR CELEBRATION WEEK ANNOUNCED

Janesville Team Plays Three Games, Madison on Monday, Rockford
on Tuesday Morning and Stoughton Wednesday Afternoon.

Manager Walter Breen of the Janesville city team has announced the schedule of games for the three days of next week of the great military celebration in Janesville. It was found necessary to rearrange the original schedule somewhat, but as it now stands, the fans are promised as good or better sport than previously. The home team will participate in each of the three games to be played. On Monday afternoon the Madison city team which was prevented from playing here last Sunday, will try conclusions with Janesville again. Madison suffered defeat here a short time ago and when they arrive here on Monday they will be "loaded" for whatever Janesville has to offer in the line of baseball playing. The Capitol City also was somewhat chastened over their loss and, it is said, have materially strengthened their line-up. The game will be called at three o'clock at the fair grounds.

Following the morning parade on the fourth of July, at half past ten o'clock, the local aggregation will be hooked up with the Orioles of Rockford, whose reputation for their work on the diamond is known in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin. The Monroe team, a professional organization, it is said, were beaten by the songsters, 4 to 2.

On Wednesday, the final day of the celebration, the Stoughton team will play with the lower city pastime, the game being called at three o'clock at the fair grounds. Stoughton also in "league" team and the contest on the closing day of the state encampment will not lack in any of the sensational features that are promised on the two days previous.

The schedule of games arranged by Breen in this city for next week, is as follows:

Sunday: Beloit vs. Janesville, at fair grounds.

Monday: Madison vs. Janesville, at fair grounds.

Tuesday: Rockford Orioles vs. Janesville, 10:30 a. m., at Athletic park.

Wednesday: Stoughton vs. Janesville, at the fair grounds, 3:00 p. m.

MEET REORGANIZED TEAM FROM BELOIT

Janesville Team Will Play Line City
Aggregation at the Fair Grounds on Sunday Afternoon.

On Sunday afternoon at the baseball park at the Fair Grounds the Janesville team will meet Beloit.

The Beloit club has been reorganized for the 1911 season and are as they stand now, the strongest team that has ever represented the Line City.

The club is now managed by Oscar Nelson, one of the best posted baseball men in this section of the country, which, in itself, affords assurance for the organization. Gregory, the star twirler, who won two games in the fall series last year, is the mainstay in the box and will be ably assisted by Poy, Moon, the southpaw, who has served two seasons in the Lake Shore league with Manitowish and Dunkin who has just returned from Melton, S. D., where he set a record, winning fourteen out of fifteen games.

"Crone" Jernberg, Woolen, Christie, Woods, Moskos, Gharilly, L. Moon, Hauser and Gubler, comprise the balance of the team and there is no doubt but what they will make a good record for themselves this season.

A good attendance is looked and hoped for as Manager Breen has good reasons for being discouraged at the difficulties that have confronted him, the chief of which has been the rain.

Instructions in setting their weapons over fences and similar obstructions, the same methods were taught as are current in the United States army. The boys reached the city about seven o'clock.

This is the first experience of the kind which the boys have had, and although they were kept busy, they all had a fine time and are anxious for another. The next trip will probably be sometime after the fourth, and will be a trip on foot. It is the intention of the leaders on all such trips to make the boys keep in perfect order, and also to instruct them in other things, such as swimming, signaling, etc.

The commissioners are now selecting several scout masters from among the young men of the city, and the movement will soon be in full swing the boys receiving regular drill and instruction.

SCOUTS ENJOY FINE TRIP ON BICYCLES

Take Trip up River and Are Shown Bicycle Stunts by Secretary Reeder—Come About Two Hours.

Yesterday afternoon, at five o'clock, under the leadership of Scout Commissioner, the Boy Scouts took a bicycle trip through the country north of town. They travelled out the river road as far as Crystal Springs, where they rested and refueled themselves before starting on the return trip. On the way out Mr. Reeder gave the boys a lesson in the correct ways of mounting and dismounting from their bicycles.

After the stop at Haverhill Springs, the boys climbed the Devil's Staircase and the high bluffs along the river, then instead of following the same route back, were lead across country for quite a distance, and were given instructions in setting their weapons over fences and similar obstructions, the same methods were taught as are current in the United States army. The boys reached the city about seven o'clock.

This is the first experience of the kind which the boys have had, and although they were kept busy, they all had a fine time and are anxious for another. The next trip will probably be sometime after the fourth, and will be a trip on foot. MOSS-ENRIGHT.
LEADER IN "WRECKING CREW" HELD FOR KILLING OF VINCENT ALTMAN.

Maurice (Moss) Enright, is now carefully looked up at the police station charged with the murder of Vincent Altmann. There are two other murders including the killing of William Gentlemen, which the police expect to lay to his hands. Enright, an alleged head of the "gunmen" has been a prominent factor throughout the present labor war. He has lived a life of ease, outing at the best restaurants and hotels, driving about the city in his automobile, and apparently enjoying the notoriety derived from his part in the work. The police are being assisted by six private detectives employed by prominent Chicago merchants who have kept their identity hidden. Enright has given instructions to employ the best attorney that money can secure and is very confident that he will be freed of the charge.

Would Bring Nickelodeon to School. "If we put moving picture shows into the schools, the truant would be a rare thing," said Mary Boyle O'Reilly, addressing the Boston Submasters' club at the Hotel Vendome the other evening. "Eighty per cent. of truant children have been found to go to cheap theaters from four to fourteen times a week. I know the economy administration will stand by and roar at the mere suggestion," she continued, "but why not bring the moving picture show into the schools and use it to teach the young? They will learn more with their eyes in ten minutes than they would in a week with their ears."—Boston Transcript.

Worth Remembering. "Remember, brethren," said the good man, as he closed the Bible and gently shook a forefinger at his hearers, "there are no steam whistles in heaven, and no angel is going to get into trouble for twanging a harp over time."

Superiority of Reason. There is no opposing brutal force to the stratagems of human reason.—L'Estrange.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

By A. W. MACY.
THE BAD FATE OF AUSTIN-
GY BISHOP.

Once there was a great famine, so the story runs, in the city of Bingen, in Germany. The bishop of the city was an avaricious man, and though his castle was full of corn and flour, he would not let the starving people have any except at exorbitant prices. As most of them had no money they could not buy. At last the rats and mice of the city, unable to find even a few crumbs to nibble at, rushed to the castle in great numbers, and devouring it, captured and devoured, not only the corn and flour, but also the bishop himself. This is the legend Longfellow refers to in his poem, "The Children's Hour."

"They almost devour me with kisses,
Their arms about me en-
twine,
Till I think of the Bishop of Bingen
In his mouse-tower, on the Rhine."

Overcrowding in New York.
There is shocking overcrowding of people in New York. Last year, according to the report of the New York city commission on congestion of population about one-third of the city's population were living at a density of more than 600 to the acre. There are blocks where the density rises to 750 to the acre. Under the present law six story tenements are permitted to have density of 1,200 to the acre. Many rooms in Manhattan, Brooklyn, and the Bronx were found to contain from three of five persons.

SWIMMERS PLAN FOR ANNUAL RIVER RACE.

Chas. Daniels, champion swimmer entered in Chicago River Marathon.

Chicago, Ill.—Announcement has been made by the Illinois Athletic Club that the annual Chicago River Marathon swim will be held July 29th.

The entry list will remain open until July 25th. The route will be the same as in past years, starting at the life saving station and ending at Jackson Boulevard bridge. The course will be controlled by boats all along the way as in the past to care for any of the swimmers who may tire and to prevent accidents.

Charles Daniels, the famous swimmer is expected to be among the prominent entries. This year's swim will be the second for the handsome $1,000 cup presented by William Hale Thompson.

Colored Glasses. A mass meeting of citizens was held at Chicago last evening, to pledge loyalty to Senator Lorimer and denounce the new investigation of his election as unwarranted persecution. Heats all, when questions of plain justice are raised, how many people are inclined to don colored spectacles.

mail to friends so that they may know what Janesville plans to do next week and why. The work of arranging for this monster celebration has fallen upon the shoulders of a few and its assured success speaks well for the concerted action of the citizens generally in supporting the committee having the affair in charge. Five thousand dollars has been raised and will be expended in making the affair a huge success. Let every one boost the city and invite friends to come and enjoy the entertainment provided.

SPELLS PROGRESS.

Commissioner Dennett of the general land office, with the approval of Secretary Fisher of the Interior Department has cancelled the Cunningham-Guggenheim coal claims in Alaska. The value that has been placed upon these claims is enormous; nevertheless, it represents but a little of the value to the Pacific Northwest and to the whole country of the mighty interests so long arrested by the adjudication of this case. The decision unless the government's hands. In a sense, too, it liberates the waiting capital and impatient energy that have been kept out of this field since the entire now set aside were first attacked. It will enable the government now to carry out more thoroughly than would have otherwise been possible the policy of conserving for the future benefit of the whole people the natural resources of the new empire. More than ever it puts upon the government the obligation to see that principals and subordinates entrusted with responsibility for the great natural riches of Alaska live up to the duty of protecting these values from spoliation and developing their proper use.

Legitimate capital and energy should now in due course be invited and encouraged to assist in the development of Alaska under conditions that will prevent the monopolization and spoliation of the land. The federal authority has matters in its own hands it can deal with Alaska now as it pleases. The decision in this case will unquestionably affect numerous other claims, making it eventually possible for the government to begin a new and a square deal for all. This is as it should be. Whatever (it may be given in the future to Alaska lands should be without flaw and unassailable and with all due regard for the public interest.

The Pacific Northwest, which has been more nearly and more directly affected than any other section by the delay in the opening of Alaska, should rejoice now not only that the cases that have acted as a barrier to the opening of all kinds in the territory have been disposed of, but that they have been disposed of under conditions that should assure to bona-fide settlers for all time a free and fair field for the exploitation of honest energy and enterprise. This is all that has been demanded by the opponents of the defeated claimants. Less than this would have closed Alaska to the individual citizens who are its rightful heirs and opened it only to the millionaires and billionaires combines.

It has undoubtedly proved a hardship to thousands who have invested their all in Alaskan undertakings that they have been compelled to await the outcome of the Cunningham-Guggenheim case, and the long delay in the settlement has undoubtedly caused much depression in the cities of Oregon and Washington; but it would be much better in the long run that development of Alaska should be postponed ten times as long than that it should be turned over to claimants whose purposes and methods are unworthy. To settle the matter rightly, it slowly would be far better than to work out an unjust settlement quickly.

The work of the collectors for the Subscription Department to "The Gazette" can be very greatly assisted if the patrons of the paper will have the payments ready at the time the collector calls. Most of our friends have assisted nicely in this connection and their promptness is appreciated. With several hundred calls to make each month, it is no small task and where it is necessary to make several return calls, the work is greatly increased. WOMAN IN SHADOW OF GALLOWS TO BECOME MOTHER NEXT MONTH

Petition Being Circulated Here in Behalf of Italian Woman Condemned To Die August 8.

Janesville people in all walks of life are today signing a petition circulated by R. Puddicombe of Beloit, addressed to the Governor General of Canada, asking for the pardon or change of sentence to life imprisonment of Mrs. Angelina Napolitano, convicted of the murder of her husband at South St. Marie, Ontario, and condemned to die on the gallows there, August 8. The Italian woman is about to become a mother and this action is taken by the petitioners in the name of humanity, and that the unborn child may not be deprived of a mother's care.

In the petition it states that there was great provocation for the act, that the hot blooded daughter of Italy was desperate, fearful of her life, dishonored by her husband, and irresponsible. Similar petitions are being circulated all over the United States and Canada, and are receiving thousands of signatures. Sixty-five citizens of Beloit and Janesville have already put their names on the list.

The story of the life of the young Italian woman, her marriage to Pietro Napolitano, her shame and mistreatment at his hands and her subsequent rash act is one of the most pitiful in the annals of crime. The story was gained by witnesses at the trial and of the story of the woman herself in broken English told on the stand.

She is twenty-eight years old and is the mother of four children. She came to this country with her family several years ago and settled in the colony called "Little Italy" at the "Bow". Here she met and married her husband, a young man, Napolitano, many years her senior. One child after another was born and finally the family became poverty stricken.

The husband turned out to be a brute and refusing to work to support his wife and children, and not only beat and almost his wife, but about a year ago insisted that the young mother sell herself and become a prostitute to gain money to keep up the household expenses. She held off and refused to concede to his demands and here the abuse and physical suffering brought about by Napolitano with a patience born of motherhood.

A few days before last Easter, the man came home and insisted that she raise $30 before Easter Sunday. The demands were accompanied by threats of her life and severe punishment. He said that if she did not have the money on Easter morning he would kill her. The woman became desperate and feared for the life of her children and her own.

Her mind full of terrible thoughts and her brain on fire with passion, she was at a loss to know how to avert the tragedy, which she knew would follow her refusal to sell her soul, that the man might be satisfied. Early Easter morning the husband slept late and the idea came to the girl suddenly of putting him out of the way. Going to the rear of the house she picked up a hatchet and creeping up the stairs to the room where her husband slept struck him over the head killing him instantly.

She was arrested, tried for murder and quickly condemned to die on the gallows. The fact that she was soon to become a mother and that the child was to be born the first of July, the date for her execution was set for August 8, one month after the birth of her baby. The trial was sensational and has attracted much attention throughout Canada and the United States. A bachelor at South St. Marie recently offered to take the place of the woman on the gallows and die in her place, but of course was refused by the authorities.

The youth of the girl who was driven to the deed by fear and desperation and the knowledge of the unborn child, has touched the hearts of the people and they have been quick to respond to the petition. Recently, Orville McDonald and John and James McNamara, the alleged dynamiters signed the petition.

RAILROAD FARES MAY RAISE IN WISCONSIN

Northern Pacific o Make Test Case in Badger State of Minnesota Court Decision.

There is a possibility that the famous two cent railroad fare in Wisconsin is doomed. In Minnesota the railroad fare is going to be put on three cent fare into operation July 1, as a result of the federal court decision, several weeks ago, declaring the 2 cent rate unfair to the railroads.

Further developments are apt to be an increase, by July 20, in interstate traffic passenger fares, which originate in Minnesota, and an attempt by the Northern Pacific, at least, to have the fares on its lines in Wisconsin and North Dakota raised to 3 cents from 2 cents per mile.

An attack on the validity of the 2 cent fare laws of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois is promised by Central Passenger association lines.

Northern Pacific officials intend to show in Wisconsin that if the 2 cent fare was an injustice in Minnesota the same situation should obtain in Wisconsin, where conditions are similar to those of the Gopher state.

Effects On Purca.

Several railroads in the middle west are now having their rate clerks prepare statistics to show the effects on their purca of the 2 cent fares. Resort to the courts, rather than to railroad commissions, is the probable line of action to be taken by the roads.

One railroad man here quotes a section of the Minnesota decision which says: "But the question whether fares and rates which have been put in operation confiscate the property of the companies, in violation of the constitution of the United States, is a judicial and not a legislative question, and when that issue is presented the rules of law, of equity and of practice applicable to the determination of judicial questions, have effect."

What Increase Means.

What the rate for interstate business will be is not yet determined, but 2 1/2 and 3 cents a mile are the figures mentioned here. The increase would mean that a passenger starting on a trip in Minnesota to a point in a 2 cent fare state or on a trip taking him across such a state would have to pay more than the rate fixed by the statutes of these commonwealths.

SHIP STRIKE GROWS IN ITS IMPORTANCE

PRODUCE PRICES SENT UP

Food Supply in England is Severely Affected by Tieup of Shipping in Various Ports—Owners Now Loss Firm.

London, June 20.—In consequence of the spread of the strike of seamen there is a shortage of butter, bacon and eggs in England, resulting from the holding up of enormous quantities of supplies at Hull, and the price of all kinds of provisions is advancing rapidly.

Millers are giving notice to their staffs to quit work in consequence of the stoppage of the supplies for wheat and flour.

A congestion of coal trucks at all the northeastern ports through the inability to load coilers is disorganizing the railroads.

The Shipowners' association of the United Kingdom met and adopted resolutions in favor of a moderate increase in the wages of certain sections of the workers at certain points and recommended that the association fix a standard rate for wages. The meeting, however, opposed the demand for the recognition of the sailors' and firemen's union.

Ship Owners Appear Weakening.

The general attitude of the ship owners showed a weakening from that first assumed toward the strikers. Many of their vessels are overdue to call, and this, combined with continued pressure from the board of trade, to effect a conciliation, seems to indicate the struggle will not be much further prolonged.

The National Federation of Transport Workers, representing more than 100,000 shore workmen, met and approved of the fight for better conditions and the recognition of their union.

Work on the docks at Liverpool is practically at a standstill. Four thousand more dock hands joined the strikers.

Crews Desert Liners at Liverpool.

The crews of the Haverford of the Red Star line and other liners at the docks have deserted in sympathy with the wharf employees. The Haverford was due to sail for Philadelphia and all its passengers had gone aboard when the seamen, firemen and stewards walked off. In a short time the movement had spread so rapidly that all the trans-Atlantic vessels in port were deserted.

MRS. JANNEY WEDS. COL. AMES Widow of Army Suicide Weds Officer Secretly.

Sacramento, Cal., June 20.—Colonel Robert P. Ames of New York and Mrs. Madeline Janney (formerly Miss McKissick) of this city, widow of Lieutenant Clarence M. Janney, who shot and killed himself in Manila about a year ago, were married in Sacramento secretly June 6 at the residence of R. T. McKissick, an attorney.

The fact of the wedding has just become known.

Lieutenant Janney, an officer under Colonel Ames, with headquarters in Manila, shot himself through the head in the presence of his wife and the colonel one night at the dinner table, following the discovery that Mrs. Janney had presented to his superior a loving cup given Janney as a token of esteem from his fellow officers.

After the suicide Colonel Ames was court-martialed and exonerated.

BURMAN BREAKS AUTO RECORDS.

Drives His Benz Car at Grand Rapids Mile in Fifty-One Seconds.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 20.—Bob Burman, world's speed king, driving his 200-horsepower Hiltzen Benz, established a new circular track record for the mile at Comstock Park, by traveling the distance in the remarkable time of 51 seconds. Five thousand people saw the speed king make his dash, which lowered the mark of 51.25 made by Barney Oldfield with the same car. The three and ten mile track records also fell before the onslaught of Burman, when he lurched his 110 Benz over the course in the time of 3:01 for the three miles and 9:30:25 for the ten miles.

CARNEGIE TRUST HEAD GUILTY

Joseph D. Reichmann Almost Collapses When Verdict Announced.

New York, June 20.—Joseph D. Reichmann, formerly president of the Carnegie Trust company, was found guilty of making false statements to the state banking department.

When the verdict was announced Reichmann reeled and would have fallen if a court officer had not supported him.

Reichmann's case was regarded as of fundamental importance to the tangled situation resulting from the suspension of the trust company and the resulting prosecutions.

MORSE NOT TO BE RELEASED

Proceedings for Writ of Habeas Corpus Fail in District Court.

Atlanta, June 20.—Chas. W. Morse, the New York banker, serving a term in the federal prison here for violating the national banking laws, failed in his efforts to obtain his release on a writ of habeas corpus.

FLAMES BREAK OUT ON THE BATTLESHIP OHIO

Powder Magazines Are Flooded When Blaze Attacks Ammunition Hoists—Smoke Overcomes Five Men.

New York, June 20.—Fire, starting in the after-turret ammunition hoist of the battleship Ohio, undergoing repairs in the Brooklyn navy yard, became so threatening that the forward and aft magazines, containing about 40,000 pounds of powder, were flooded in order to prevent an explosion.

Capt. Robert Buchanan called his crew of 700 men to fire quarters and for two hours a desperate fight was waged. Five seamen were overcome by smoke.

The fire was started, it was believed, by a red-hot rivet dropped by a workman in the turret. Its consequences were not noticed at the time, but after the ironworkers had left the turret, smoke was seen issuing from the ammunition hoist.

Captain Buchanan instantly ordered the automatic high-pressure services, which floods the magazines, into action, and in a few minutes the powder was covered with water and the flames extinguished. The damage will be heavy, although the powder charges can be dried out and saved.

Had the fire reached the powder in the after-magazine at the bottom of the hoist, there would have been an explosion that would have wrecked and sunk the Ohio. The dreadnaught North Dakota and battleship Alabama lay nearby and would have been seriously damaged.

PACKET DELIVERED BY AERO

Aviator Sopworth Takes Eye Glasses Out to Olympic at Sea.

New York, June 20.—The aeroplane received a new practical test off the Long Island coast when Sopworth, the English aviator, acting for one of the six department stores, delivered aboard the out-bound White Star liner Olympic a pair of eye glasses belonging to W. A. Burpee, a seed merchant of Philadelphia.

Burpee sailed for Europe. A pair of eye glasses was to have been delivered to him at the dock, but failed to arrive. He sent a wireless message to the store to send them on the next boat. The reply was flashed back that they would be delivered aboard the Olympic by aeroplane.

The glasses were rushed to the Hempstead aviation field by automobile and given to Sopworth, who ascended, soared out to sea until above the out-bound Olympic. Then he swooped down, and, when directly above the big liner, dropped the carefully boxed and wrapped glasses aboard the liner.

JUDGE CHARGES HENWOOD JURY

Von Phul's Slayer Cannot Escape on a Manslaughter Verdict.

Denver, Col., June 20.—"There is no manslaughter in this case," impressively said District Judge Greeley M. Whitford in reading the instruction to the jury in the case of Frank H. Henwood.

The court charged the jury that there were but three possible verdicts in the case: First degree murder, second degree murder and acquittal. He also charged that the accidental killing of George E. Copeland, for which Henwood is being tried, by a bullet intended for Sylvester L. Von Phul, justifies a verdict of first degree murder, providing that Henwood intended maliciously and premeditatedly to take Von Phul's life.

Henwood's plea was self-defense, and the most interesting witness at the trial was Mrs. J. W. Springer, wife of a wealthy banker, over whose affections Von Phul and Henwood are said to have quarreled.

SENATOR WARREN TAKES BRIDE.

Is Married to Miss Clara Le Baron Morgan at New York.

New York, June 20.—United States Senator Francis Warren of Wyoming was married to Miss Clara Le Baron Morgan in the little ball room of the Hotel Gotham. Senator Warren is sixty-seven years old and his bride thirty-five.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wilbur L. Caswell, pastor of St. Thomas Episcopal church. Only relatives and intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom attended.

Senator Warren has been a widower for nine years. The bride is a daughter of the late John L. Morgan of Groton, Conn., who left her a large fortune.

SHOOT'S NIAGARA IN BARREL.

Steel Cask Two Hours in Whirlpool and Inmate May Die.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 20.—"Bobby" Lanch of Niagara Falls, Ont., in a barrel trip through the whirlpool rapids and the whirlpool sustained injuries which may result fatally.

Starting from the Old Maid of the Mist landing he was tumbled through the rapids, his steel barrel several times being shot clear of the water in the rush to the pool. The barrel was swept into the middle of the pool and remained there for two hours before it swung close enough to the shore to be captured by watchers. Lanch, a man of fifty, was bleeding from wounds.

OREGON EXPRESS IS HELD UP

Southern Pacific Railroad Victim of Robbers at West Fork.

Eugene, Ore., June 20.—The first section of the Oregon express on the Southern Pacific railroad was held up and robbed at West Fork in Cow Creek canyon.

One Estimate of Philosopher. A philosopher is a fool who torments himself during life, to be spoken of when dead.—D'Alembert.

A BIGGER NAVY AN ASSURED FACT

The other's drill. The interchange of ideas was not restricted to one ship, but after each ship had developed her method of drill and training, the officers of all the ships, by frequent conferences and by studying methods of practice throughout the fleet, crystallized all that was good into the first experimental, approximate drill regulations and instructions for out new ship. All guns and ships were put on a competitive basis. The result to be achieved was definitely stated: "The hits per gun per minute."

"Now, with this approximate, standardized drill, it became necessary for the battery officers to train their gun crews individually and collectively. Each man was studied both as to his mental and physical fitness. If the man gave promise of being able to do well the thing for which he was selected, a course of thorough, detailed instructions and drill was given to him. Finally, when the man did both and everything required of him with accuracy and confidence, there began a process of systematically increasing the speed. Each motion was timed by the stop watch, records of time were kept, and the man began to feel like a fighter.

"When all turret and gun crews have been thoroughly trained, each man as a unit, and each crew as a team, so that each human element has in reality become a perfect fitting cog in a gear train, the ship is ready for elementary target practice. Prizes both for the individual ship and for the Navy are offered for the best gun of each caliber. If the score made by a gun is exceptionally high, every man in the crew is furnished by the department with a letter to be worn on his sleeve for the year. This is the Y word by a Harvard or Yale crew or football team.

Having trained the individual, developed the individual gun crew, perfected the mechanism, and learned from the results of elementary practice what results to expect under favorable conditions from individual firing, it became necessary to train for battle efficiency. To this end, both turret guns were fired at the same instant; then methods of control were perfected and all guns of battle range on the ship were fired in salvo for all at once. This perfected the use of a ship as a unit. The final step was to control a division so that all the guns of four ships could be used as a unit."

UNITED IN MARRIAGE AT BROODHEAD YESTERDAY

Miss Mabel Milk And Edward A. Elsie Wedded by Rev. G. N. Foster—Broodhead Personal.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Broodhead, June 20.—Married, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Chase, on Wednesday, June 20, by Rev. G. N. Foster of the M. E. church, Miss Mabel Milk of Broodhead, to Mr. Edward A. Elsie of Buffalo, N. Y. After visiting his friends hereabouts for a few days they will leave for Buffalo where the groom is engaged in the mercantile business.

Personal News.

Mrs. J. E. Graham and son, Sidney Mrs. Frank Dietrich and Mrs. W. N. Cobb, spent Wednesday in Janesville. Mrs. A. N. Lawton and baby are with friends at St. Thomas, Ontario. Frank Dawson arrived home the first of the week from Geddes, South Dakota, where he has been for some months.

J. H. Oliver spent Wednesday in Janesville. Ray Cox of Beloit is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Cox. Mrs. Elizabeth Jones and daughter, Marie, of Monroe, were guests on Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Rodetick and family.

Mrs. Kate Stewart and daughter, Miss Jean, of Aberdeen, South Dakota, who have been visiting relatives and friends in and about Broodhead, left for Marshfield today to visit Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stewart.

Miss Faye Bolen was a Julia visitor on Tuesday.

Broodhead will not celebrate the Fourth of July. A train will leave this station for Albany at 6:50 a. m., and, returning, leave that village about 8:30 on the Fourth.

Mrs. E. J. Dodge is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Connor, in Rockford.

Beginning next Sunday evening the churches will unite in union meetings in the city park for the summer months.

The family of Sherman Moore arrived here on Saturday to spend the summer.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Doolittle, with a party of friends from Lancaster, arrived in Broodhead, Wednesday, to spend a week camping at Decatur Parks.

Mrs. A. Wood of Rockford is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Annie Mitchell.

Not the Proper Word.

"Tommy," said the teacher, "your face needs washing badly." "I beg your pardon, ma'am," said Tommy's little sister who had been spending six weeks in Boston with her aunt. "It appears to me that washing badly is not what Tommy's face needs. If I may say so, it has been badly washed. He did it himself, just before we started for school."

Confidence.

Confidence may be defined as the feeling we experience just before we proceed to make a mistake.—Puck.

Not Content.

"My wife went to the intelligence office to get a good plain cook." "Did she get one?" "That depends on the point of view. Literally speaking, yes. The cook sent us to church once a day and three times on Sunday, and her morals were beyond reproach. She had a complexion like a nutmeg grater, a snub nose and was cross-grained. So far, she was a good plain cook. But her cooking belonged to the criminal class."

He Knew.

"Are you in pain, my little man?" asked the kind old gentleman. "No," answered the boy, "the pain's in me." —Indianapolis Journal.

Can Defy Microbes.

A doctor in Yokohama, Japan, has built himself a novel house with a view to guarding against microbes. The walls of this remarkable edifice are made of blocks of glass. They are hollow, the interstices being filled up with a solution of salts of soda, which is intended to regulate the temperature of the interior. The windows are hermetically closed, and air is only admitted after passing through filters.

LINK AND PIN. FINAL WRECKAGE AT BARDWELL IS TAKEN TO MILWAUKEE TODAY

Demolished Engine and Disabled Cars
Cleared From Track and Taken To Milwaukee Shops.

By this afternoon the final work of clearing away the wreckage from the derailment at Bardwell Tuesday evening, was completed and everything was left in shape for the resumption of the usual traffic. Wrecking crews from Chicago and Milwaukee, arrived at the scene of the disaster about midnight, or early Wednesday morning, and the work of clearing away the debris was rushed.

The parlor cars and coaches were lifted onto their trucks and drawn back to Walworth, where they were placed on a siding. The mail car, which was thrown up the bank on the south west side of the track, was lifted onto trucks and taken to the siding at Bardwell, about one mile toward Janesville. The wreckage of the engine and tender were taken to one side of the track in order to make possible the building of the track over the roadbed, which had been plowed and torn by the derailed train.

Shortly before nine o'clock yesterday morning the first train to Chicago, the passenger leaving Janesville at 7:20, passed over the newly constructed track and for the rest of the day traffic continued as usual. Work of clearing away the debris at the sides of the right of way, was continued this morning and by this afternoon the last vestige of the derailment was cleared away. The disabled cars, the engine and all the debris was taken to the Milwaukee shops, where the repairs will be made. The boiler of the engine was in shape and with a new cut and the replacement of the broken parts, the engine will undoubtedly be back at work within a month. The wrecked engine, which was a class "A" of the Atlantic type, it is built for fast passenger work.

There were between fifteen and twenty men in each of the wrecking crews from Milwaukee and Chicago. Foreman J. Holley had charge of the Milwaukee gang and they were assisted by a gang from Janesville under Foreman G. Abundroth. Roundhouse Foreman Charles Swan was also at the scene of the wreck yesterday, and aided in directing the work of clearing the roadbed. Machinists Young, Cockfield and Bailey of the Janesville roundhouse, were also there to assist in the work.

The entire wreck was cleared away in record time and much sooner than the average person who viewed the scene on Tuesday night, might suppose. The monster derricks lifted the huge hulks of the engine and cars with ease and under able direction the work was quickly completed. The cars and engine were run to Milwaukee, on the Racine and Southwestern branch at a slow speed.

Fireman Bennett, who met his death in the wreck Tuesday night, was engaged to be married next month.

Engineer Higgins and Fireman Lavens composed the engine crew of the relief train from Janesville, which left for the scene of the wreck Tuesday evening. They also went to Madison on the return trip with the passengers, who were transferred from the derailed train.

Engine number 1, of the Mineral Point and Northern railway, was double headed through this city from Milwaukee to Mineral Point on train No. 91 yesterday. The engine had been in the Milwaukee shops for repairs, following a disaster at Highland last spring, in which the iron horse cracked through a bridge into a stream. It was engine at Bardwell Tuesday.

EIGHT HOUR SCHEDULE
INTO EFFECT MONDAY

Shorter Hours of Labor Began Last Monday.—Other Changes May Be Made.

Beginning last Monday morning, June 26th, the hours of labor for the shopmen at South Janesville, were cut from ten to eight hours per day. The new schedule is as follows: from 7:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon, and from 12:45 p. m. to 3:45 p. m. Other changes in the time schedule may be made before the end of the week, but the above notes the working hours for the present.

Insuring School Children.

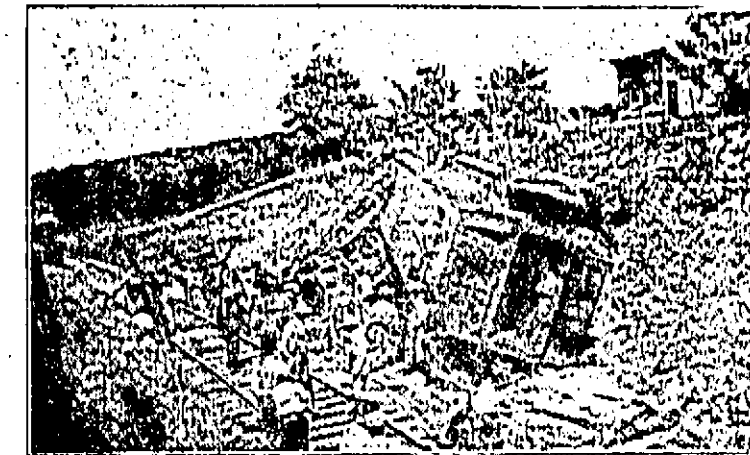

In Berlin a novel insurance scheme is being introduced, recommended by the Kaiser, having for its chief feature insurance against accidents to school children on their way to and from school. The policy covers all accidents to children within the walls of the schools, as well as on the playgrounds, as during lessons in physics and chemistry. The premium is 40 cents a year and in case of death a sum of 2,000 marks ($750) is paid to the parents, while total disability entitles the child to an amount of $1,500. For temporary disablement, the company pays all doctor bills and 75 cents a day.

The Greeters have taken new club rooms and if you don't happen to know who the Greeters are they are mainly those who welcome you to town in the various hotels. The club was started in 1903 with a membership of fifty. Since then the number has increased to 300. The national order, which sprang out of the formation of the New York club, now numbers 2,500. The membership of the local club comprises hotel clerks, cashiers and managers.—New York Sun.

Future Physical Changes.

Sigheer Enrico Morrell, the Geneva anthropologist, considers that the human race will undergo a process of physical change. Man in the future, he says, will have a bigger head than he has today. This will be accompanied by a modification of form, inasmuch as the head will be rounded in touch to come. The short headed man will dominate, at least as far as the white races are concerned, while on the other hand, among the yellow peoples the long head will be the mark.

Clothed in Light.

And, by the way, the latest London entertained is "Clothed in Light." Indeed, in Deodima provides quite an original turn. She is a sprightly brunette, who stands against a white background garbed in the costume of a statue. To prevent the unclassical-minded from being shocked, however, indecently is clothed in the most vivid and various raiment by means of a magic lantern placed directly in front of her. All sorts of pleasing effects are thus obtained and the prudish susceptibility of the nervous successfully saved. It is said to be a very pleasing entertainment, and the little lady is quite pretty, and—if one may mention such a thing—very shapely into the bargain.

One of the big attractions of the morning of the Fourth will be the industrial parade which is scheduled to proceed from the corner of West Milwaukee and Academy streets; south on Main street to St. Lawrence avenue; west on St. Lawrence avenue to Court which Miss Christie spoke, was extremely interesting. The young ladies waukee and Academy streets at nine o'clock. This event promises to be far superior to any like effort of previous years, both in number of entries and elaborateness of decoration and detail.

Many Fine Floats.
E. T. Flah, chairman of the committee on this event, stated that nearly all the merchants and manufacturers have signified their intentions of entering this parade, and one far-reaching float of beautiful design, advertising their goods. According to latest reports there will be as many

W. J. HILT'S LIBERTY FLOAT IN THE INDUSTRIAL PARADE THE MORNING OF JULY FOURTH TWO YEARS AGO.

as one hundred and fifty different business firms represented, which will make the event one of the big features of the celebration.

Some of the firms are planning especially elaborate floats and nothing will be left undone by the committee to make the parade one of the best. Mr. Flah requests that all who possibly can, be represented in this parade and not to wait for a member of the committee to call on them before they decide to enter.

Prizes Are Offered.
In order to induce rivalry on the part of those who enter the event to secure the most attractive designs, the Fourth of July committee will offer three prizes as follows: First, $25;

THE GAZETTE FLOAT IN PARADE TWO YEARS AGO

second, $15; third, $10. The judges will probably be the members of the governor's party who will review the parade from the balcony of the Myers hotel.

Four or five of the bands will be in the parade and furnish the music during the line of march.

Line of March.
The floats which will enter the parade will form in procession at the corner of West Milwaukee and High streets at half past eight o'clock on the morning of the Fourth. At nine o'clock the procession will start and will proceed as follows:

East on Milwaukee street to Main street; north on Main street to Prospect avenue; east on Prospect to High street; south on High street to East Milwaukee street; west on East Mil-

PROPER CARE FOR THE COLT

Better to Let Youngster Stay in Barn
Than Follow Mother All Day—
Accidents Are Avoided.

(By W. F. PURDIE.)

Nearly every one aims to give his brood mare about a week's rest after foaling, but on few farms are sufficient horses kept so that they can be allowed a longer period of rest than this.

When the mare is again put into the fields, shall the colt be allowed

Too Young to Travel Far.

to follow the mare, or kept in the barn?

The latter is the better place in many ways. If the foal is allowed to follow its mother to the field, it will be completely tired out, long before the day's work is ended.

It is also in danger of being injured in various ways. It would be far better off left at the barn in a lot, or, if the weather is bad, in a box stall,
where it can do itself no harm.

After the first day, the colt will cease to be restless, and will become perfectly contented, as soon as its mother is taken out of its sight.

Also, under this plan, the mare will work as well as usual, after the first day or two, which would not be the case if the colt were in the field where she could keep it in sight most of the time.

The first week, of course, it will be necessary to unhitch the mare in the middle of the forenoon and again in the middle of the afternoon, and take her to the barn and allow the colt to suck, but this is not one-half as inconvenient as having the colt in the field to get in the way, and to keep his mother in a flutter of excitement.
It will not be long before the colt can be left away from its mother half a day at a time and then the mare can be worked without any inconvenience whatsoever.

If there are two or more colts, put them in a lot together when their mothers go to the fields, and they will be more contented.

When there is any necessity of having the brood mare away from home all day, the colt should be hitched to her side. If on the road there will then be no danger of the colt running back, or up branch roads, or of following other mares.

Height of Ocean Waves.

The height of ocean waves in a storm has long been a matter of dispute. As bearing on the question it is interesting to note the experience of the Mauretania, which arrived in New York twelve hours later after an exceedingly rough voyage. Her wheel-house is eighty feet above the water line, yet a sea came aboard that broke six of its thick plate glass windows. Theoretically this would seem to prove that this particular wave was at least eighty feet high, for the reason that the steamship was running at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour directly into the storm and therefore cutting through the waves rather than riding and falling with them.

YOUR SPINE CONTROLS YOUR STOMACH

Your stomach should be no more in evidence so far as abnormal feeling is concerned than your hand. You should be entirely and utterly unconscious of your stomach before or after eating or any other time. You ought to eat anything from cabbage to strawberries and feel no ill effects. Any person who has stomach troubles is living a most senseless sort of life.

THE STOMACH IS CON- TROLLED BY THE SPINE

Chiropractic adjustments remove the pressure on the nerves leading to the stomach thus permitting the brain currents (life pulsations) to assume normal proportions and Nature makes the stomach well.

WHY TOLERATE STOMACH DISORDERS? WHY BE BUNCOED INTO FOOLING WITH MEDICINES?

The tree with the decayed heart is not saved by smearing the opening with varnish or preservative—the rotten part, THE CAUSE, must be removed first.
Medicine tickles the mind, it can't move a bone. Chiropractic is not medicine, surgery, osteopathy, etc. It is the only science, art or philosophy, which has discovered that disease results from subluxated (spinal bones) vertebrae, resulting in a pinch or pressure on the nerves, connected with the brain via the spinal cord, emerging between the vertebrae, and leading to the various parts of the human system. No power on earth can prevent disease until the nerve pressure is removed.

Chiropractic adjustments only, do just that—and no power on earth can give disease to the body with the perfect spine.

Notice in the illustration of the spine the second arrow pointing to the 6th, 7th and 8th vertebrae (bones) lay one against the other shutting off the nerve from the brain to the stomach which is the cause of your stomach troubles. Chiropractic adjustments separate these bones and allow full uninterrupted flow of life to the stomach. Nature then restores you to health. The second arrow points to Nos. 9, 10, 11. These show the bones laying one upon the other and with this condition there is sufficient cause for your kidney trouble and all disease pertaining to the kidneys.

DR. J. S. KIRLEY

ORGANIZING THE BOY.

It is easier to organize boys than any other kind of business. They are standing around waiting to be organized into almost any kind of band that they or their kind friends can think of, for almost any kind of purpose boys can be used for. The boy has the honor of having inspired as many "movements" as any one of the other groups in whose behalf the various historic movements have been started—Young Men, Young Women, Women, Young People, Men and the rest. He also has the satisfaction of having precipitated a "crisis" now and then, of more or less large dimensions, and he can get up a local "crisis" any morning, before he gets up himself. He was the main child in the "Children's Crusade," centuries ago, and he almost started the modern Sunday school movement, single handed and alone.

He can excite more kinds of interest than anyone else and a great deal of anxiety as well. For him all kinds of factories are at work, with day and night shifts, turning out shoes and caps and pants and medicine and surgical instruments and school books and doctors and teachers and bread and meat and musical instruments and sweethearts and all the other products needed by him in his all-absorbing business of being a boy. He is an unconscious patron of all the industries and starts a few himself.

But of all the lines of business which his presence with us has stimulated, that of organizing him as one of the most flourishing. And he needs all we have ever done for him, and more. But what is more to the point, he likes it even better than we do.

Something like twenty years ago the Boys' Brigade was started for his benefit and served with great effectiveness. It caught hold of him by his military and millinery ligaments, put regimentals on him and held him to a course of instruction in the manual of arms and field practice, as a soldier of righteousness. It failed to address itself to all his interests or addressed them in a defective way, and it has gone. But each movement, as it passed, left him a wiser and better equipped boy and left its place vacant for another movement, still better adapted to his needs. Local modifications of the main ideas are still used effectively. The "Knights of King Arthur," with each lodge a castle, founded by Dr. Forbush of Boston, is popular in the east. The "Order of the American Boy" is a growing organization. The "Beton-Woodcraft Indians," started by Ernest Thomson-Beton, has some vogue. Dan Beard's "Sons of Daniel Boone" is also popular.

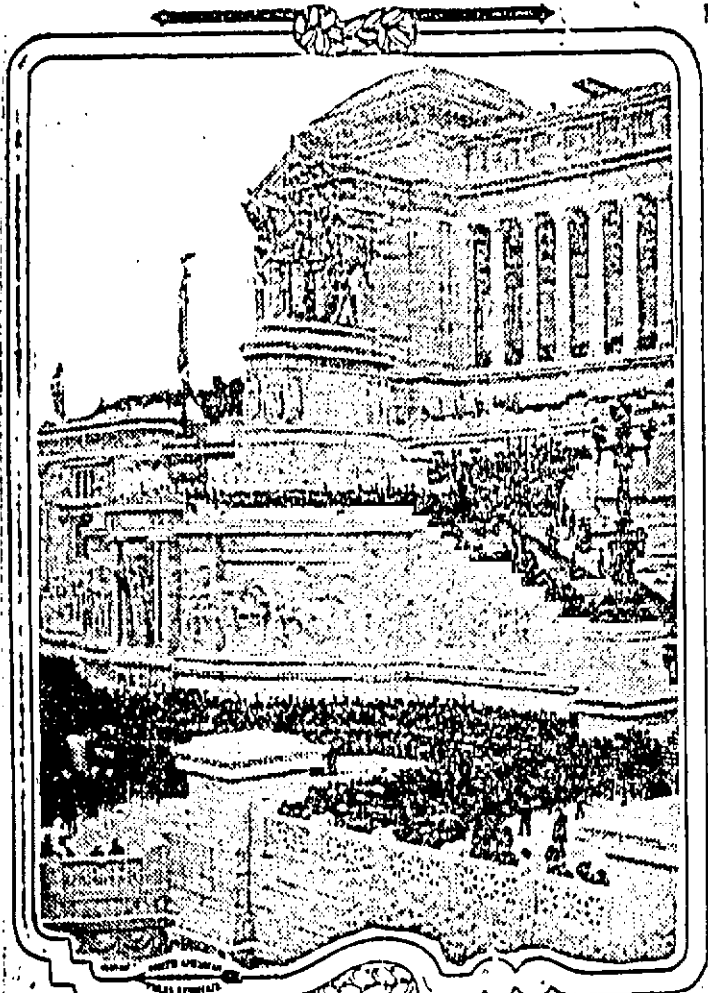

But the latest claimant for the privilege of serving him is the "Boy Scout" movement, and it is spreading with a rapidity and a momentum never before known in any boys' movement. It originated in England in 1908 under the leadership of Sir R. S. S. Baden-Powell, who has followed a plan of organization used with the boys of Mafeking at the time of the Boer war, though he has also very carefully studied the methods employed in former work for boys, especially in the Boys' Brigade of America. There are now over 400,000 scouts in Great Britain and it has spread to all the British colonies and to France, Germany, Spain, Russia, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Austria-Hungary, Chile, Argentina, the United States, and is still going. In our country it is spreading fast, with national officers, whose headquarters are in New York, and scout masters in every state in the Union, who have applied for instruction in methods of work. Roosevelt is first vice-president and Gen. Leonard Wood is a member of the general council. The Y. M. C. A. has taken it up and appointed Mr. Alexander, their most expert worker with boys, to direct the whole movement in their organization.

This movement ought to be the best yet, and it looks so. Its whole aim is to make efficient character and it starts at the right point, with the boy's honor. "On a scout's honor" is as solemn as any oath can be. It disparages war except against wrong of any kind, and therefore omits the military drill, on the ground that it injures individuality and versatility and narrows one's interests. This is the judgment of General Baden-Powell, who ought to know. It trains him in things that will fit him for danger and duty, but does it by stages—first as a Tenderfoot, next as a Second-class scout, then as a First-class scout. The instruction that goes with each degree is surprising, in its variety and fresh interest. Within the ranks a "First Class" scout may gain honor badges for ambulance work and for marksmanship and pioneer work.

He learns by practice rather than in books—wood craft, manual nature, out-of-door sports, first aid to the injured, and much more; and each boy is expected, and expects, to do a good turn each day to some one. It is said that an accident can scarcely happen anywhere in England but boy scouts are the first on the ground and render the most intelligent aid. It is democratic and will not allow any social distinctions among the boys themselves.

McNAMARA CASE MAY ELECT A SOCIALIST MAYOR.

Los Angeles, Cal.—The arrest and trial of J. J. McNamara may elect a socialist as the next mayor of Los Angeles. This is possible because the McNamara case is forcing a division between capital and labor, and in such a division labor controls the majority vote.

Job Harriman will run for mayor on the Socialist ticket. Harriman is at present among the lawyers retained by the McNamara brothers in their defense.

Called for Hard Thinking. Little Mary sat seriously thinking out some hard problem, when she remarked: "Grandma, I don't know yet which I'll be, a nurse, or a storekeeper, or get married, and be nothing."

His Star of Mercy Had Set. Little Arthur was very proud of his membership in the "band of mercy." He wore the badge, a small star, as if it were a policeman's insignia, and could often be heard reproving the other boys for their cruel treatment of dogs and cats. But one day a lady of the neighborhood was astonished to find him in the very act of tormenting the cat most cruelly. She protested, "Why, Arthur, what are you doing? I thought you belonged to the 'band of mercy?'" "I did," he said, "but I lost my star."—The Metropolitan.

No Time for Hesitation. In transferring the two thousand passengers from the sinking steamer Republic, the greatest difficulty was found in getting the women to leap at the very instant they were told to. If they hesitated an instant a wave carried the boat too far away, and they fell into the water, and had to be fished out. One woman who so fell had a bag of jewels in her hand, which she lost.

DISAPPOINTED AMBITION IS THE CURSE—FULFILLED AMBITION THE GLORY—OF ANY MAN'S LIFE. The average man or woman who SUCCEEDS in this world is the man who realizes he was not born to set the world on fire, but aims at a goal within his reach and keeps on with courage, persistence and intelligently directed PURPOSE until he gathers the sweet fruits of his labors.

Many persons have died from disappointment because of thwarted ambitions. They aimed probably not too high, but with all their ability they lacked the knowledge of HOW to achieve their purpose.

But the number of successful life-enjoying business men is growing every day. In the past men have pursued and acquired ACADEMIC knowledge—this is the day when men seek and acquire BUSINESS knowledge through avenues such as I offer YOU. Will you profit by my experience?

I have taken young men and women from the farm, from the workshop, from behind the counter, some with a common school education, some with a high school training, others with college and university training—given them a thorough, practical knowledge of business through a study of our courses, and today they are holding responsible positions with the best business firms. GOMEZ DE LA BARRA
UPON THEIR SHOULDERS RESTS THE FUTURE OF MEXICO.

Mexico City.—Upon the shoulders of two men more than any others rests the burden of reconstruction in the republic of Mexico. Dr. Vasquez Gomez, diplomatic head of the revolutionists, has arrived here to assure the people that peace has really been declared. Only the presence of Gomez will reassure them of this fact.

Minister De la Barra, now president of Mexico, has upon his shoulders the responsibility of securing recognition for the new government of Mexico, and of so conducting the affairs that out of chaos shall come peace to the excitable and agitated Mexicans. While it is true that Senior Madero is still the dominant factor in Mexico, still the fact remains that his active work will come later, should he be elected by the people as president. In the meantime at the greatest crisis of the last half century, Gomez and De la Barra are the men of the hour.

Library for Children.

A library for children is a comparatively new thing in London. A new one in Maureland, Chelsea, is a model of its kind. It had its origin in a boys' room, concerning which Earl Cadogan, when he opened it made the fierce joke that "as everyone knows, a boy's room is better than his company." Out of this boys' room grew the children's library, a place of deep silence, where boys and girls meet for the common pursuit of knowledge.

Effect of Electricity.

The average person does not experience any sensation from an electrical current until the pressure reaches about 35 volts.

The Five Great Races.

In answer to the question, "What are the five great races of mankind?" a Chinese student replied, said Bishop Montgomery at the anniversary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, reports the London Mail, "the hundred yards, the hurdles, the quarter mile, the mile and the three miles." In another paper a Chinese student said that "Out of sight, out of mind," could be explained in two words, "Invisible, Insane."

Like an Onion.

A man who is always priding himself on his fine ancestry is a good deal like an onion in the field, only not quite as strong—the heat he lays claim to is under ground.

All About the Pig.

A little boy's first composition was about a pig. This is the way he wrote it: "Pigs are very queer animals. The pig has its uses. Our dog don't like pigs. His name is Nero. Our teacher read a piece one day about a wicked king named Nero. I like good men. My papa is an awful good man. Men are very useful. They have a great many uses which I can't stop to tell them all. This is all I can think of about the pig."

Easy for Him.

The man who lets his wife think she is having her own way has no difficulty in governing her.—Philadelphia Record.

Do; Don't Talk.

Just do a thing and don't talk about it. This is the great secret of success in all enterprises. Talk means discussion; discussion means irritation; irritation means opposition; and opposition means hindrance always, whether you are right or wrong.—Sarah Grand.

Various Uses for the Aloe.

In Africa the leaves of certain species of aloe provide material for bow-strings, hammocks, fishing lines and ropes. With the Mohammedans the aloe means much. For instance, those who have returned from a pilgrimage to Mecca hang it over their doors, as a sign that they have made the great journey.

Do You Own a Horse?

If You Do it Will Pay You to Read Every Word of This

When you buy horse feed, no matter what it may be, the most valuable element in that feed is protein. Protein is the flesh and muscle builder of any feed. Every feed contains a certain amount of fats which are also beneficial. Also every feed that you may give your horse, including oats, corn etc., contains a certain amount of indigestible matter known as fibre. Therefore it's up to you to feed your horses upon the feed that will contain the most protein and fats to replace the daily waste of tissue, and the least possible amount of waste matter or fibre that is indigestible.

CASE'S MOLASSES FEED

HAS BEEN TESTED REGULARLY BY THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN EXPERTS AND HAS IN EACH AND EVERY INSTANCE BEEN FOUND TO CONTAIN MORE PROTEIN AND FATS AND LESS FIBRE IN PROPORTION THAN ANY OTHER FEED OF ANY KIND.

It is composed of corn, barley, bran and molasses. The molasses acts as an aid to digestion and is a "conditioner." There is no secret process of manufacture. The only secret of the success of this feed is COMMON SENSE AND THE BEST INGREDIENTS.

You can feed four quarts of this feed and your horses will look better and be able to do more hard work than if you gave them six quarts of oats. THAT'S one reason why it's CHEAP ER THAN OATS. You can feed it to horses doing the hardest kind of work and they will do that work with an eagerness and willingness you never saw before. It is used by over 400 farmers in Rock county and never has there been a complaint. It is fed to horses here in Janesville doing the heaviest kind of work and it is keeping those horses right in the pink of condition all the time.

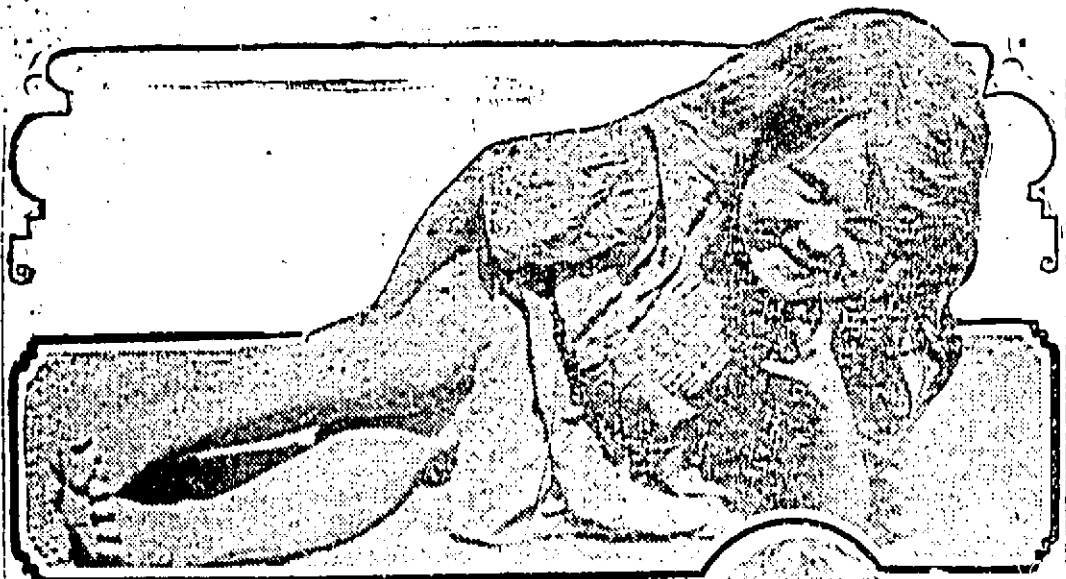

Read What Dr. Perschbacher, V. S., Has to Say:

"I have fed Case's Molasses Feed for over three years and I find it is the best feed for the money I have ever used. I have found it very effective on old horses, mares with foal, sickly colts and in fact any stock that is in a run-down condition. If it is fed intelligently it will build up, fatten horses and enable them to do twice the work on much less feed. Case's Molasses Feed is by far the most economical feed for any horse owner to feed. Yours Truly, J. PERSCHBACHER, V. S."

Careful thought of the above facts ought to convince you that Case's Molasses Feed is what your horses and stock need this hot weather. In addition, we back each and every one of the above statements with an absolute guarantee that the feed will do all we claim for it or you get your money back. The quicker you order it the quicker you will get results. Don't put it off—order it now, while you are thinking of it. Phone or write.

JUST KIDS.

Do you happen to remember those good old days of kid-dom, when from June until September not a care could mar your freedom. Without your stockings and your hat what cared you for heat or sun. On the beach or in the water, all the world was joy and fun. When the office seems too hot, think of those good days of yore. Never mind the call of business. Pack your trunk—go to the shore.

Origin of "Boodle."
Some of the authorities on slang words and expressions say that the word "boodle" is derived from the Dutch, and there is reason to suppose that they are in the right. It first came into common use in New York at the time of the exposure of the Tweed ring, and has ever since kept its place in the language as expressing something that no other word in the English language could bring out so well. It was also highly popular in the days of Jake Sharp and his henchmen.

"Do you know," began the barber as he laid the latter thickly over his client's mouth, "that we're the only fellows I know of that could commit a crime and not be detected through the Bertillon system or whatever it is that pinches people by comparing thumb prints?"

The victim moved uneasily in his chair, but circumstances over which he had no control sealed his lips. He grunted interrogatively and politely. "Yes, sir, the reason is simple. We ain't got no thumb prints. We get 'em all worn off rubbing our thumbs over you fellows' chins. Fact! I'll show you when I let you out of the chair. My thumbs are pretty near as ironed-out-looking as your face will be when I get through with you."

Washington, D. Sen. La Follette, has been an important factor throughout the discussion of the Lorimer case because of his fight for a special committee to investigate the election of Sen. Lorimer.

Sen. Borah of Idaho is authority and sponsor for the resolution providing for the direct election of Senators. It was hoped that this measure could be passed over to the regular session, but because of his demand for action the Senate is to meet at noon instead of at 10 o'clock in order to have time to discuss this measure.

Sen. Stone of Missouri, has entered a complaint that the Finance, Census, Privilege, and Election Committees had bills before them which were being delayed and should be reported out for the Senate's consideration.

Sen. Newlands, speaking along general lines, has made the statement: "There was a time when the leaders of the dominant party could agree upon and put the measure of great. Today they cannot." Sen. Heyburn of Iowa, has come out strongly opposed to the direct election there is no leadership and we have of United States Senators in the manner and form provided in the Borah resolution.

YOU'LL SEE NO OTHER CARS LIKE THESE

You Can See Features Herein These Cars That You Cannot Equal Anywhere Else

REGAL "TWENTY" $900

This is a dashing, stylish roadster built with full underslung frame. That is its distinct and distinguishing feature.

The center of gravity is brought close to the ground and yet there is a road clearance of ten inches. The inherent advantages of this form of construction in a car of this type are too well known to require comment.

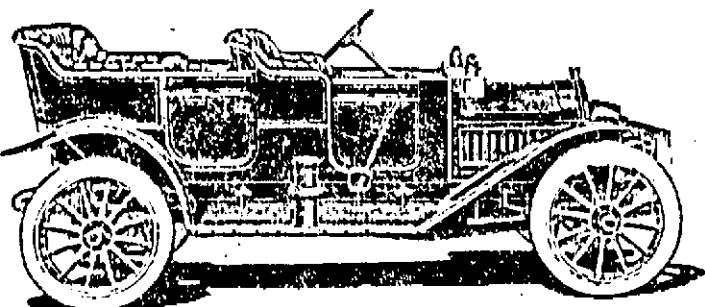

The Regal "Twenty" is light enough in comparison with its power to make it very speedy over any road and exceedingly economical on tires. It is heavy enough so that it sticks to the road, and is always easy riding and thoroughly comfortable.

The seat is unusually roomy and there is ample leg room between seat and dash. You will quickly perceive that here is the ideal roadster—not too large and not too small—roomy, powerful, speedy and comfortable.

This car strikes a distinctly new note in automobile building and yet nowhere does its design deviate from the high standards set by the best engineering practice.

REGAL "THIRTY" $1050

Its reputation as a car of remarkable endurance and reliability is established. It is impossible to emphasize too strongly its easy riding qualities, obtained through the use of extra long semi-elliptic front springs and full elliptic scroll rear springs. The motor provides ample power and is silent in operation. Special attention is invited to the high grade upholstery throughout and the fine quality of finish.

REGAL "FORTY" $1650

A big car of dignity and quality. In size, luxury of appointment, elegance of finish, ease of riding power, the Regal "Forty" is not approached by any car selling at less than $3500.

The above is a strong, bold statement, but not one whit stronger or bolder than the quality of the Regal "Forty" warrants.

Comparison will demonstrate quickly that in this car we are giving one of the most remarkable car values the market affords.

SOME TRUTHS PECULIAR TO THE

What name springs instantly to your lips when the best cars are under discussion? The Cadillac, intuitively. Other good cars you admire and mention—but the Cadillac invariably comes first to your mind. And not alone to yours, but to thousands of other minds—to men in every State of the Union, in the city and on the farm. That is one of the things which is peculiarly true of the Cadillac. Another—which should have equal weight with every man considering a car—is the astonishing steadiness of the Cadillac sales. For nearly three years now—or ever since the present models were first offered—that demand has not lapsed or lessened for a single day.

It has been necessary, in other words, to check or curtail any out put planned by the Cadillac Company—a circumstance unprecedented and peculiar.

No fickleness in popular favor; no economic condition; no seasonal setback to the industry, has ever disturbed the demand for its maximum capacity.

In substantiation of this statement it is merely necessary to point out that during the last quarter of the year 1910, notwithstanding a temporary quietness in business in general, the volume of Cadillac sales exceeded any previous quarter in the history of this company. But what is more significant, that volume we believe to have been more than fifty per cent greater than that of any other motor car manufacturer.

Cadillac sales are fixed, stable, steady; greater in some months than in others, of course, but as certain in their totality as the days of the year.

Consider the reputations that have come and gone; waxed and waned; expanded and contracted—and ask yourself: what central point fact it is that moves so many thousands to be of one mind in regard to the Cadillac car.

The answer is no doubt as ready to the tip of your tongue as it is to ours. Cadillac pre-eminence is not attributable to some single or even several special features. That pre-eminence is due to the "goodness" of the car as a whole; from its splendid motor down to the last screw incorporated in its make-up.

The Cadillac has made the technical term "standardization" a familiar and homely phrase in thousands of homes, which had its significance first explained to them in a description of Cadillac Construction.

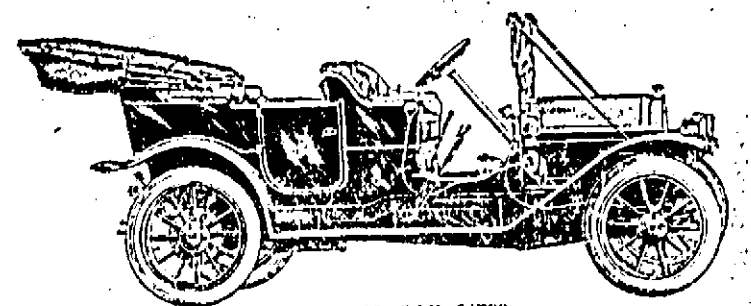

It is this "standardization" to which is attributable in large measure the many virtues of the Cadillac car; the harmonious workings of its parts, the smoothness of its operation, the almost vibrationless action, the economy of maintenance, the durability and the bull dog persistency in "making good" even in spite of abuse.

England crowned this car with its most honorable trophy for possessing a degree of standardization unknown outside of the Cadillac. These are some of the reasons why you and hundreds of thousands of others unconsciously say "Cadillac" first.

Because the Cadillac is a good car, through and through. Immediate deliveries on all models.

General Plans

Something doing every minute of the three days is the motto which the committee has adopted. With the slogan "You'll succeed in Janesville" in mind the arrangements have been completed for many little details usually forgotten on celebration days.

The Y. M. C. A. has thrown open the second floor of its building for the use of women as a Rest Room. A trained nurse will be in attendance.

The W. C. T. U. have also opened their rooms for rest room purposes in the Carle block.

The Salvation Army have arranged for rest rooms with a competent woman in attendance at their building on North Main street.

The Committee is completing arrangements for rest room and emergency hospital with a nurse in attendance near the Court House Park.

The Individual Plumbers of the City have planned to place the new style drinking fountains in front of their places of business. The city is also installing several such for public use and several individual corporations, as the Water Company and the Gazette will do likewise.

BRITZ HEADQUARTERS

BY MARCIN BARBER

ILLUSTRATIONS BY JIMMY

CHAPTER XIX.

The Mysterious Millicent.

Britz attacked from Hander's apartment to a dingy little den of a shop on the top floor of a downtown business rookery—one of the skyscrapers of a quarter-century before. It was much more tedious to climb the five flights of stairs to the sixth story than to shoot in an express elevator to the summit of the Skinger Building. But Britz was too hot on the scent to pay much attention to his fatigue. He ran up the stairs lightly, flung open a crazy outer door that creaked an announcement of his coming, and pushed a bit of paper toward a young man of modern physique and ancient visage who was working at a bench. The paper was the note beginning "Curtis dear," and ending with the first name of the mysterious Millicent. The anachronistic young man looked at it inquiringly through steel-rimmed spectacles.

"Rush a hundred copies of this, Hander," said Britz. "I'll send for them in a couple of hours."

The detective seated himself on a stool behind the bench, and for several minutes watched the photo engraver at his work. His mind was not behind his eyes, however. He was busy with the possibilities unfolded by the little scrap of paper he had found in the Hinduo burglar's possession. The headquarters man never was in a hurry to accept any clue at its face value; nevertheless, he felt he had at last something which, if not a direct link between his knowledge and his suppositions, would go far toward connecting them. That the note was addressed to Curtis Griswold he had little doubt. It required small effort of reasoning to conclude that the Easterners had gone to Sands' apartment soon after visiting Griswold. But this time, Britz had learned enough to convince him that the Brahmin scholar was as eager to get possession of the Millicent necklace as he was to get the Maharajah diamond, anyway, if not all the other gems belonging to the famous string. By a patient, patchwork process, Britz had pieced together the faintest details of the Swami's movements. He knew all about the scholar's presence in the Metropolitan Opera House on the night of the disappearance of the jewels, and he had made himself acquainted with the system of espionage maintained by the sage and his subordinates ever since that time. That system, he was aware, covered everyone connected, however distantly, with the mystery. It was apparent to Britz that he was working against men who, while not trained detectives in the Occidental sense, were fully as persistent in their quest as himself. There was no question the Swami had directed all the energies of the Easterners which the detective had followed interestedly throughout their various manifestations. Britz was convinced that he had the Brahmin priest to thank for his own kidnapping; and he was equally certain that the same little band of brothers had searched the houses of Bruxton Sands and Curtis Griswold. He was not given to attaching much weight to intuition, regarding that faculty as a pale and usually ineffective feminine reflection of masculine logic.

But something told him he must beat himself even more vigorously than he had done to date, if he was to trace the Millicent diamonds before the wave, subtle men from the East could find them and put them forever beyond the reach of any Westerner. One thing was in his favor. Undoubtedly he had broken the Swami's line of communication by seizing the spies before they could report the finding of the Millicent note in Sands' apartment. He had a vague sense that the scrap of paper would be of immediate value as a clue to the Brahmin—that if he had not intercepted it, the scholar by now would have been close upon the discovery of the diamonds. It remained for Britz himself to ascertain the identity and whereabouts of Millicent before the Oriental prisoners could communicate with their chief. Those prisoners were safe enough for the present in the Tenderloin Police Station; but, although it was in the detective's power to prevent their immediate arraignment in the Night Court by a word to the precinct commander, he could not long keep them in cells. They were entitled to a speedy examination before the magistrate, and he was certain that unless their failure to report to the Swami should alarm that gentleman sooner, steps would be taken in the morning to have the prisoners produced in court. They were sure to be arraigned in Jefferson Market at next day's afternoon session, if not earlier. Britz felt that, once in their presence, the Swami, though he might be separated from them by the length of the room, would find means to learn all they knew, to the last microscopic detail.

He must find Millicent that night. That done, he had little doubt he would be close to the Millicent jewels, and probably to the person who had taken them from their snug harbor in Mrs. Missioner's library.

"I'll send for the copies, Hander," Britz said, as he slipped from the stool and started to the door, "but don't let the original leave your hands until I call for it myself."

The detective was so absorbed in his thoughts as he walked down flight after flight of the dark stairs that he did not see a pair of eyes gleaming from one of the lower halls. Those eyes were as black as the darkness that formed their background, and the headquarters man would have been even more than ordinarily on the alert if he had seen them glinting in the remote recesses. As the detective passed on toward the street, the eyes advanced along the dusk of the hall, and in the faint glow of a lowered gas-jet at the foot of one of the higher flights of stairs, there became visible behind them a man who, in most respects, was a counterpart of the two Orientals at that moment detained in the West Thirtieth Street Station. The owner of the eyes, while Britz walked down stairs, as quickly and far more quietly went up.

Britz turned his steps toward 300 Mulberry Street. In his own office, after a glance into Manning's room that showed him it was empty, he called Dr. Fitch on the telephone and made an appointment to meet him in two hours in the bar of the Holland House.

"It's one of the quietest places in

Was a Counterpart of the Two Orientals.

Manhattan," said the detective, "and I want to talk to you very privately. They are not likely to know me there."

Britz pushed a button, and when a Headquarters attendant appeared, sent him for the Central Office man, whom, next to himself, he trusted most.

"Send down to Hander's place in an hour and a half, Hander," said Britz to the other detective. "He'll have a hundred facsimiles of a letter signed Millicent. I have as many men as possible get busy among the hotels. I want to trace the woman who wrote that signature. They will have to look through every register for a year past. It's got to be done thoroughly, and I want it done quickly. Here, I'll give you a list," and he hastily scribbled the names of a half-hundred host-eries of a class such as he thought the fair Millicent might patronize.

"What time will I see you?" asked Hander.

"If I'm not back in three hours, I'll call you up," said the detective.

Then, having arrived at a pause in the pursuit of the jewels, he hastened to a Turkish bath, where, being a little weary from much metropolitan journeying and muscle-bound from loss of sleep, he had himself baked, steamed, chilled, kneaded, and pounded into shape.

The great detective's indulgence in that luxury all unknowingly gave to the other side an advantage in the race for the Millicent jewels that will might prove fatal to his success. Long before Britz reached the hotel room of the bath, the man with the glinting eyes who had passed him in the hall of the tumble-down loft building was at the door of Hander's workshop, straining the angle of his vision to follow the photo-engraver at work. Those glinting eyes focused their gaze through the keyhole on a piece of paper which Hander had fastened with thumbtacks to a board, and which, in the glare of an arc lamp, confronted a big camera with a powerful lens. Although the eyes followed Hander as well as they could about the room, their owner was not so much interested in the artisan's activity as he was in the small white sheet of paper on which he could discern lines traced in a woman's hand. Patiently waited the owner of the eyes. "He was of a race that had cultivated patience through the centuries. Soon or late, undoubtedly, the man inside would go from the bench beside that great white light to another part of the room. A few yards would suffice for the man with the eyes, and even while Britz still was talking to Hander in Police Headquarters, Hander briskly covered those dozen or so feet to get a chemical in the row of bottles in the rack at the far end of the shop. The man outside, crouching until he was little higher than an upreared cobra of his native land, slipped through the doorway, crawled across the intervening space between the threshold and the camera, whirled the Millicent note from the board, and as silently made his escape before Hander had replaced the cork in the bottle. By the time Detective-Lieutenant Britz was enveloped in the fog of the steam room, that little note was in the possession of the Swami and Prince Kananda, and those worthies were studying it so swiftly and so profitably that ere Britz took his cold plunge, the sage and the Maharajah's son made a swifter, deeper dive toward the heart of the Millicent mystery. It was as a result of what they learned from Millicent's missive that the Swami and the Prince went separately to the ballroom of Doris Missioner's most fashionable friend. It was also in consequence of the information gleaned from those potent feminine lines that the Swami found Mrs. Missioner's society so interesting, and that the Prince, before and after that tete-a-tete, experienced keen curiosity concerning the doings, characteristics, and state of mind of Curtis Griswold.

The third result of Millicent's little letter and the Easterners' joint visit to the Fifth Avenue ballroom, was their dash in separate cabs to a bachelor apartment in a side street just off Central Park, where, shortly after their several arrivals, they were in close consultation for an hour or more with all the supposedly devoted retainers of the rich Mrs. Missioner.

For the second note to Curtis Griswold that fell into the hands of the Hinduos—the one Prince Kananda intercepted at the door of the Fifth Avenue mansion in which the great ball was held—was written on a letterhead that revealed to Nandy and the Swami an address they very much desired to know. Had that address found its way to Detective-Lieutenant Britz as soon, it would have saved him much delay, and would have spared a large part of the city's detective force the necessity of a laborious search through Manhattan's hotel registers.

Hander was one of the most astonished young men in lower Manhattan when, turning from his row of bottles, he found the note entrusted to him by Britz had vanished. At first he assumed he had fastened it carelessly and that it had fallen to the floor. A quick hunt showed him he was wrong. He extended his search to every part of the room, and it was not until he had disturbed the dust of ages that he realized the scrap of paper actually was gone. His sensations following that realization were not of the pleasantest. Britz was one of his best customers, and he knew from the detective's earnestness the note was of exceptional importance. It isolated him only in part to find on taking the plate from the camera and putting it through a developing process that the lens had done its work more faithfully than he. He held in his hand a perfect duplicate of the letter. That would not satisfy Britz, of course, but it was better than it would have been if the note had disappeared before the photographing was complete. Hander hastened to subject the little plate of copper to the acid bath, and as the minute points of the halftone came out with startling distinctness, the young man rejoiced that he at least was able to produce the facsimiles the headquarters man had ordered. Hander spurred him so effectively that all the hundred impressions were ready when Hander sent for them. Half an hour afterward, as many detectives were comparing the halftone prints with the signatures of all the Millicents in the registers of New York's more fashionable hotels.

Britz, as fit as a fiddle after his par-bolling, walked briskly to the marble lobby of the Holland House and joined Fitch in the bar. That hotel is not patronized by the Bright Light set, one reason being that it studiously repels all attempts at such patronage. Half a dozen men of undoubted fashion were in the cafe when Britz and Fitch draped themselves over one end of the bar, and began absorbing long, cold drinks in punctuation of their interested talk.

"We're getting warm, as the youngsters say," said Britz, and he told him of all that had happened since their last meeting. "Your young lady won't have to stay in the Tombs much longer, I'm thinking, unless we have a stroke of bad luck. I'm puzzled on one point, however, and that's what I wanted to see you about. What do you know about Bruxton Sands?"

"I know he's all right," Fitch replied. "One of the best ever."

"Known him long?"

"Several years. I was fortunate in the case of a brother of his, and that made me pretty solid with the whole family. Bruxton has done me several good turns."

"You think that square look of his is not a front, then?" inquired the detective.

Scientific Management.

John Trower, the Philadelphia caterer who, born a slave, died a millionaire, was once asked by a reporter to what quality he imputed his success. "I impute my success," said Mr. Trower, smiling, "not to hard work, but to the avoidance of hard work. By that I mean, of course, that I devoted myself to the executive side of my business. I never did what I could get some one else to do for me. I was like the young man from the Hiltenshouse Club. A young man from the Hiltenshouse Club, his top hat tilted and his hands in his pockets, was sauntering down Walnut street when he met a youth who was distributing circulars. The youth extended a circular to the clubman, but the clubman, without taking his hands from his pockets, said politely: "Thank you, my friend, but will you be good enough to throw it on the sidewalk yourself?"

About Absinthe.

In three European countries the drinking of absinthe is now prohibited—Belgium, Holland and Switzerland. The dangers of absinthe were early known and denounced, but it was only in recent years that thought was given to the prohibition of its being drunk. Belgium started the crusade. A large amount of the absinthe consumed is sold in France, where many writers claim it is undermining the army and navy.

Kust Stains.

I am often confronted with the problem of rust stains in goods, but I have now found the solution, and hope to help others. I take rhubarb and place it in a pot to cook, without peeling, and pour cold water on it till it reaches the top of the vessel. When it boils hold the rusted part of the goods in it, and stains will be completely gone.—Harper's Bazar.

YOUR NEIGHBOR'S EXPERIENCE.

How you may profit by it. Take Foley Kidney Pills. Mrs. E. G. Whitely, 360 Willow St., Akron, O., says: "For some time I had a very serious case of kidney trouble and I suffered with backaches and dizzy headaches. I had spots floating before my eyes and I felt all tired out and miserable. I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised and got a bottle and took them according to directions and took them about a month. The pain and dizzy headaches left me, my eye-sight became clear and today I can say I am a well woman, thanks to Foley Kidney Pills." Badger Drug Co.

NEW HEAD OF CIRCULATION MANAGERS' ASSOCIATION.

Pres. J. D. Simpson of the International Circulation Managers' Association, elected at the 13th convention of newspaper circulation managers held at the La Salle Hotel in Chicago. The convention was one of the most successful ever held by the organization. The next convention is to be held in Baltimore.

GIVES LIFE BLOOD TO SAVE WIFE.

U. S. Senator Luke Lea of Tenn. heroically sacrificed a quart of his blood in order to save his wife. Mrs. Lea's recovery, which had almost been abandoned, is now practically assured. Sen. Lea withstood the operation well, he could not stand alone for many hours.

A Parisian Roosevelt.

A rich resident of Paris, with a view to checking the decline in the birth rate, has left under his will $1,000 to every head of a family in the neighborhood where he resides, who, having been married within the five years preceding his death, shall have five children living.

Feet Tired--

So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching, swollen feet remarkably fresh and sure footed.

It's the sure remedy, you know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. Only remedy that does it with a great saving of time and for corns, callouses and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore feet, and suffered intense pain, and tender feet, and the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I could not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used." A. F. Dreutzer, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot lotions clog up the pores. TIZ forces out all poisonous excretions which bring on soreness of the feet, and it is only remedy that does it with a great saving of time and for corns, callouses and bunions, too. You'll never limp again or draw on your face in pain, and you'll forget about your feet like a new person. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct, if you wish, from Walter Lutter Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Do You Want to Buy a Farm at from $32.50 to $40 per acre?

I have listed with me for sale a number of excellent farms at the above prices. They are not in Rock County, however, but in a country where the soil is equally good, where there are good roads, good schools, churches, where the climate is about the same as here, but where there is a greater rainfall. The trouble has been that if anything there was too much rain, so the county and state have put in a perfect drainage system.

This land is located in the rich and delightful RED RIVER VALLEY, POLK COUNTY, MINNESOTA.

Here are a few of the farms:

No. 10. 320 acres, all under cultivation. 5 miles from town. New barn and granary combined. Soil rich loam with clay sub-soil. Price $32.50 per acre.

No. 11. 280 acres, 4 miles from town. Half mile from school. Five room dwelling with cellar. Large granary with windmill and feed grinder attached. Barn 42x70 ft. capacity for 75 head of stock, mow room for 50 tons of hay. Fine flowing well. Good grove. Buildings good as new. 3 miles of fence. All under cultivation. Soil black loam with clay sub-soil. A very fine farm and an ideal home. Price $40.00 per acre.

No. 12. 160 acres, 120 acres under cultivation, balance fine level prairie. Corners with No. 11. Price $32.50 per acre.

No. 13. 280 acres, 4 miles from good town. 1 mile from school. Good ten-room house, barn with capacity for 40 head of stock and 25 tons hay. Good large granary with windmill and feed grinder attached. Flowing well, good grove, etc. Soil black loam with clay sub-soil. All under cultivation except 25 acres pasture. An ideal home. Price $40.00 per acre.

See me for other farms listed with me and for all information. I guarantee that this land is exactly as represented. If you will go to see it and find it not as represented, I will refund all railroad fare both ways.

DIDN'T KNOW WE WERE LOADED

JUDKINS PERKINS, familiarly known as "Jud," who lives a few miles from Janesville, owns a fertile quarter section and has raised bumper crops the past two seasons. He also has some fine stock and is in good shape generally. These things all made "Jud" feel pretty good. The large house he finished not long back had to be furnished. He gave the matter of furnishing considerable thought and after getting all the points he could decide that The Big Store looked pretty good to him. "Jud" and his wife called and made a day of it. Found no trouble in getting suited, in fact when they got all through "Jud" told us confidentially that he had looked around a good deal before coming, but that he did not expect to find such a stock of Rugs, Curtains, Bedding and Dry Goods generally in Janesville. Said he "didn't know we were loaded" for such big game. The Carpet and Rug departments on second floor made "Jud" and his wife both open their eyes some.

IT'S a great room, light as a full west light can make it, and stocks that tower over anything for miles around. Rugs, enough to "sink a ship"---the world's best makes. No house in the Northwest is better able to take care of your wants in Floor Coverings, Curtains, Wearing Apparel, Bedding, Linens, Dress Goods, Silks, etc. The growth of this business is the best evidence that the great public is satisfied with the way it is being conducted.

BARGAIN BASEMENT

The Big Store has grown so in the past few years, that a Bargain Basement is now a necessity and with that end in view, we have arranged a modern Bargain Basement under the North Store.

Bargain Basements have a specific work to do, viz: that of cleaning out all remnants of stocks, all merchandise that for one reason or another does not go well at regular prices. The Bargain Basement of The Big Store will offer all merchandise from regular stocks that for one reason or another do not sell well. But there will be a great inducement to patronize the Bargain Basement, that of PRICE.

Nothing shall be offered in the Bargain Basement that is not a great Bargain. And there will be lots of them. There will be remnants from all departments, merchandise from all departments that is not the latest, there will be styles from last year, all at prices that will make them better values even than regular goods at regular prices.
